>> OBSERVATION IS KEY TO EARLY DETECTION

The Counterintelligence Awareness Library

UNCLASSIFIED

CONSEQUENCES/

The Insider Threat:

- Foreign Governments
- Foreign Intelligence
- Commercial Entities
- Current/Former Affiliates
- Visitors

Will Steal Classified Information:

- Mission/Technology
- Trade Craft/Trade Secrets
- Blueprints/Plans
- Sources and Methods

To Leak to Unauthorized Personnel:

- Competitors
- Insiders without a need to know
- Foreign Governments/Intelligence
- Press or Media

Which May Cause:

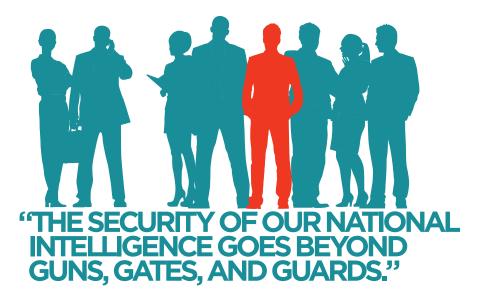

- Loss of Mission
- Monetary Losses
- Loss of Assets
- Loss of Life

INSIDER THREAT: Walter Kendall & Gwendolyn Myers

MOTIVATION: Ego

Critical of American policies regarding Cuba and supportive of Cuban President Fidel Castro, this State Department contractor and his wife passed classified information to the Cuban Intelligence Service for thirty years, starting in 1979.

In November 2009, Walter Kendall and Gwendolyn Myers pled quilty to acting as illegal agents and communicating classified information to the Cuban government. Sentenced in 2010, Gwendolyn Myers is serving seven years in prison while Walter Kendall Myers is serving life in prison without the possibility of parole.

The threat could be anyone, anywhere, at any time, including foreign government and intelligence services, commercial entities, and individuals. Targets are chosen based on access, influence, and knowledge. Harder to spot are insider threats who use sabotage, terrorism, and espionage to achieve their goals.

INSIDER THREAT: Shamai Leibowitz

MOTIVATION: Ideology

As a Hebrew linguist for the FBI, he translated wiretapped conversations among Israeli diplomats planning to create a hostile environment for U.S. relations with Iran. Believing his actions would right significant wrongs, he passed classified transcripts on to a blogger, who then published the information.

The U.S. District court of Maryland convicted Shamai Leibowitz of disclosing classified information and sentenced him to 20 months in prison (May 2010).

INSIDER THREAT: PFC Manning

MOTIVATION: Ego

As a Private First Class with the U.S. Army, this individual downloaded over 700,000 classified State Department cables and government documents from a classified network and sent them to WikiLeaks, which then published the information online.

The U.S. Army convicted PFC Manning of violating multiple sections of the Espionage Act and sentenced Manning to 35 years in prison (August 2013) for taking part in one of the most prolific information leaks in U.S. history.

- Crisis of conscience

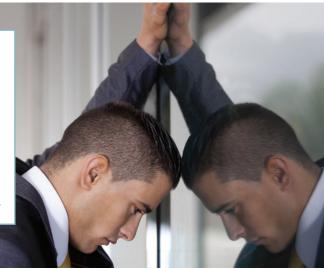

A crisis of conscience occurs when an individual experiences a personal, ethical, or moral internal conflict that relates to the job they have been assigned to perform in support of

As a civilian defense contractor with a Top Secret clearance, he had access to national defense systems' classified information regarding the deployment and capabilities of nuclear systems and ballistic missiles used by the U.S. military. He shared information in conversations and through email with his girlfriend, a 27-year-old Chinese national.

BEHAVIORAL INDICATORS/

- Drastic changes in behavior or attitude
- Frequent, unreported, or unusual travel
- Unusual work behavior such as:
- Working inconsistent or off-hours (arriving early, leaving late)
- Requesting higher clearance or expanded access
- Financial delinguencies/affluence
- Disregard for security practices
- Unreported foreign influence or connections

an organization's mission.

INSIDER THREAT: Benjamin Bishop

MOTIVATION: Compromise/Coercion

In March 2013, Benjamin Bishop pled guilty to providing classified information to China. He faces up to 10 years in prison (June 2014).

TAKEAWAY/

As part of the Intelligence Community, you are responsible for reporting threats against national security. If you observe suspicious behavior, be mindful of existing issues, exercise good judgment, and conduct discrete inquiries. Do not, under any circumstances, confront an individual under suspicion; instead, seek assistance from your security officer.

See Something. Say Something.

- Report immediately.
- Don't alert individuals under investigation.
- •See it? Hear it? Report it!

To report a compromise of classified information, contact your security officer.

If you have any questions regarding the information in this brochure please contact:

Counterintelligence (CI) Awareness & Operations Security (OPSEC) 301-688-6535

S443-012 - January 2015